

INTERNET SAFETY RESOURCES FOR PARENTS

- American Academy of Pediatrics (AAP)
<http://www.aap.org>
The American Academy of Pediatrics (AAP) helps parents by providing expert guidance, resources, and research-based recommendations to support children's health, development, and safety.
- American Psychological Association (APA)
<http://www.apa.org>
The American Psychological Association provides parents with expert resources and guidance on child development, mental health, and effective parenting strategies to support their family's well-being.
- <http://www.common sense media.org>
CommonSenseMedia.org supports parents by providing trusted reviews and guidance on age-appropriate movies, games, apps, and online content to support safe and informed family media choices.
- <http://familycenter.meta.com>
FamilyCenter.meta.com helps parents by providing a centralized platform for managing family activities, sharing updates, and accessing resources to support parenting and family well-being.
- <http://www.internetmatters.org>
InternetMatters.org supports parents by providing practical advice, tools, and resources to help keep children safe and confident online.
- Parents SOS (Parents for Safe Online Spaces)
<http://www.parentssos.org>
ParentsSOS.org helps parents by providing accessible support, resources, and guidance for managing their children's behavioral and emotional challenges.
- SafeKids.com
SafeKids.com supports parents by providing expert advice, safety tips, and resources to prevent childhood injuries and keep kids safe.

- Safewise
<http://www.safewise.com/resources/internet-safety-kids/>
Safewise.com helps parents by providing expert advice, safety tips, and product reviews to create safer homes and protect their families.

- The National Center of Missing and Exploited Children (NCMEC)
missingkids.org
Operates a 24-hour hotline
1-800-THE LOST (1-800-843-5678)
The National Center for Missing and Exploited Children helps parents by providing resources, support, and assistance in preventing child abduction and exploitation, and aiding in the recovery of missing children.